New Partnerships Position Suneva Medical as Leader in Regenerative Aesthetics

Suneva Announces the Addition of Two Innovative Products to its Aesthetics Portfolio

January 3, 2019 (San Diego, CA) – Suneva® Medical, Inc., is proud to announce two exciting new partnerships intended to shape the future of regenerative aesthetics. Building on the success of Bellafill, its flagship regenerative biostimulatory product and the longest lasting dermal filler on the market, Suneva Medical has signed two new partnerships with Healeon Medical, Inc and Puregraft, LLC.

“The combination of our world class commercial organization and these unique and innovative Aesthetic products strategically positions us for long term growth as a leader in the regenerative aesthetic market,” says Preston Romm, CEO, Suneva Medical. “These new products will add significant breadth to Suneva’s product portfolio.”

Healeon Medical of Newbury Park, California develops and commercializes next generation innovative medical devices and offers clinical expertise, and education to medical professionals in the regenerative medicine market. Healeon has signed a partnership with Suneva Medical for certain markets on their proprietary, cutting-edge PRP technology, featuring an innovative high platelet capture design and a long-term exclusive relationship on Healeon’s next generation technologies arriving to the aesthetics market mid-2019.

“Healeon Medical has a concentration on the growth of regenerative medicine, making Suneva Medical a great partner as it continues to lead this promising area of aesthetics,” says Jeff Greiner, CEO of Healeon Medical.

Based in Solana Beach, California, Puregraft LLC is the world’s leading fat grafting company. In 15 minutes or less, the Puregraft products provide surgeons with purified fat for reinjection. Puregraft is devoted to developing fat based technology focused on the emerging regenerative aesthetics market. Suneva Medical has a distribution partnership with Bimini for certain markets on their proprietary Puregraft fat grafting system for use within the regenerative skin and body care industry and an exclusive relationship on their next generation technology scheduled to launch in early to mid-year 2019.

“Suneva Medical is a seamless connection for our Puregraft products and its next generation technology. We look forward to growing the relationship and working together to shape the global aesthetics market,” says Brad Conlan, CEO of Puregraft.
